

Cardholders pick up more discounts

This Saturday (28th May) Miele are holding another factory sale with big reductions in domestic appliances that have been used for demonstration or are end of line.

If you own a Choose Abingdon card, Miele will also make a further reduction of 5% off the factory sale price, so remember to take your card along with you.

If you want to get yourself a card before the weekend, the only way is to go into one of the shops in the scheme and purchase your card there (£3). Try Added Ingredients on Stert Street or Friends the Jewellers on West St Helen Street who have signed up over 100 cardholders each. The Shoe Shop of Abingdon, Scuffs on the market place and the Gift Centre in Bury Street are also keen supporters of the scheme, or try Steventon Bakery if you aren't in the town centre in the next two days. If you happen to be in Coxeters there is a shop called Centre Stage where they can help you and there are cards behind the bar in both the Cross Keys and The Broad Face. As well as getting your discount on Miele goods this weekend you can collect points on your purchases in all these places, and turn them into gift vouchers.

First published on www.chooseabingdon.com on 26th May 2011

