

Young Entrepreneurs get free publicity

Young Entrepreneurs get free publicity: As applications come in from Young Entrepreneurs to take part in Choose Abingdon's awards scheme, the first two applicants were awarded with some free publicity via Pick South Oxfordshire magazine. Sean Corrigan of Seanantony hair salon on Ock Street and Andrew Maclean of ADM Tree Management will be featured on the pages of the January issue. Having spent a few hours with these two young entrepreneurs I am extremely impressed with their drive and initiative and the attention to detail they are putting into everything they do. It bodes well for the competition and for the outlook for the Abingdon area economy in the next few years when there are young people like this coming through.

Look out for Sean and Andrew in the January edition of Pick South Oxfordshire and maybe one of them will be stepping up to receive the Infineum Young Entrepreneur of the Year 2013 award on March 22nd at the Good Living Event. The competition is still open for new applications up until January 15th 2013. To find out more click on the box on the bottom right of our home page on this site or follow this link

<http://www.chooseabingdon.co.uk/news/young-entrepreneurs-awards>

Sean's salon can be reached on 01235 553642. Click on this link to reach the ADM Trees website <http://www.admtrees.co.uk/about.html>

First published on www.chooseabingdon.com on 14th December 2012

